

HIBERNIA ATLANTIC EXPANDS TO NEW OFFICES IN LONDON U.K.
Accommodating Increased Company Growth and Demand for its Global Financial Network

- Hibernia expands to a new location at 133 Houndsditch in London, UK
- New Office is a direct result of company's continue network expansion, with over 120 network locations globally

SUMMIT, NJ & DUBLIN, IRELAND – May 5, 2011 - Hibernia Atlantic, the only diverse transatlantic high bandwidth connectivity provider, announces their expansion to a new location this week at 133 Houndsditch in London, UK. This new office is the result of the company's continued growth, including the additional reach and locations on its Global Financial Network \(GFN\). Hibernia has also seen a continued demand for its secure, diverse and low latency network connectivity, especially after the launch of its Hibernia Secure product as well as its news of its lowest latency transatlantic cable build, called Project Express.

"This new office is a clear indicator of Hibernia's rapid development," states Fergus Innes, VP of Sales, EMEA of Hibernia Atlantic. "We are committed to meeting the network demands of our clients and to continuing to provide unparalleled service and support as we further expand our global reach."

This new office announcement comes on the heels of Hibernia's extended global reach, both terrestrially and subsea, through new Points of Presence (PoPs) in and around London, Tokyo and Hong Kong. Engineered specifically to connect global financial markets, the GFN is layered over Hibernia Atlantic's current footprint in key financial cities, including over 120 Points of network Presence, spanning Europe, Asia and North America. All these cities are accessible with one fast connection, allowing exchanges, trading houses and financial firms the high performance and network reliability necessary to remain competitive in the high frequency trading marketplace.
